A PEACE CATALYST: Research undertaken by the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) points to WFP (World Food Programme) programmes contributing to creating conditions for peace in four areas, including 'bolstering social cohesion, strengthening the link between citizen and the State', and resolve grievances within and between communities. Nobel Peace Prize to WFP in 2020 cited the WFP's role and the importance of access to food in maintaining peace.

India has made major progress in addressing hunger and malnutrition, but a lot needs to be done and we must continue this path as the trailblazer in access and inclusion through public policies and systems. For over five decades the WFP has been partnering with India and seen its transition from being a recipient to a donor. However, we must take note of the fact that India can do more and is doing more on delivering the goal of zero hunger and equity globally.

As the world's largest humanitarian agency, the WFP, and India, as the largest democracy, can leverage this partnership to contribute to addressing food emergencies and strengthening the humanitarian response, embodying the spirit of 'leave no one behind' and 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam.'

Food Startup to serve cultivated lion, tiger meat

London: Food technology company Primeval Foods plans to launch an entire menagerie of exotic meats that didn't actually come from animals, including lion burgers, tiger nuggets or giraffe ham.

As the meat-alternatives market becomes increasingly competitive, food tech companies are coming up with new and ingenious ways of making their products stand out. Primeval Foods, a London-based startup specialising in cellular agriculture, plans to start selling exotic meats cultivated in a laboratory. The types of meat most people never even imagined were edible, like lion or tiger meat.

No animals are actually hurt in the process of growing these exotic meats in a laboratory, as they are actually grown from cultured cells, but the simple idea of consuming lion or tiger is just weird, if not downright offputting for a lot of people.

Couple divorce and remarry every 3 years

Tokyo: A Japanese couple who can't agree on their last name has agreed to divorce and remarry every three years so they can take turns using their respective last names.

Japanese law clearly states that couples must agree on a single last name to use after they get married, but what happens when two lovers just can't decide which one of their family names to use? That was the conundrum a young couple from Hachioji city, on the outskirts of Tokyo, when they decided to tie the knot, after a few months of dating. Only when it came to settling on their last name, she made it clear that she intended to keep her maiden name, something that her husband didn't agree with at all. They argued about it for a while, but then they decided that they would divorce and remarry every three years and changing their respective last names.

State has exceeded target in tax collection by Rs. 9,500 cr.: CM

Bengaluru, Apr. 4 (KMS&DM)- Maintaining that the State has exceeded tax collection target by Rs. 9,500 crore in the financial year 2021-22, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who also holds the Finance portfolio, said that more efforts will be made to bring fiscal discipline back on tracks.

Replying to a debate on annual grant demands of various departments in the Legislature session recently, Bommai said that the revenue target (2021-22) was fixed at Rs.1,19,552 crore. But at the end of the financial year, the revenue collection stood at Rs.9,500 crore more than the set target despite the COVID pandemic, he said adding that the measures taken to plug loopholes and overcome shortcomings in the tax system was responsible for this.

Prof. H.N. Aswathanarayana: A multi-faceted personality

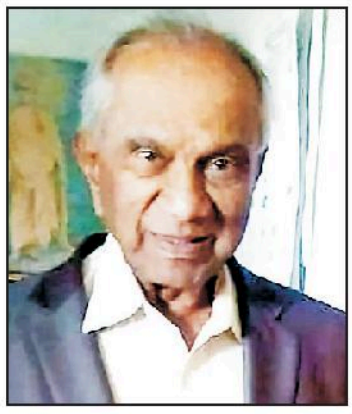
Sir,

This refers to Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem's article in Star of Mysore dated Mar. 20, 2022, in which he has paid rich tributes to Prof. H.N. Aswathanarayana, who passed away on Mar. 16, 2022.

On my part, I am proud to say that Prof. Aswathanarayana was my relative. He had a multi-faceted personality, like expertise in Yoga. He had associated himself with Vivekananda Yoga Kendra, Mysuru, for several years.

Further, he was a strict disciplinarian, very transparent in all his transactions. He was prompt in immediately attending to calls from his friends and relatives in times of crisis (like deaths etc.) and lending his helping hand.

In order to promote Indian culture and tradition among children, Bhagavad Gita recitation competition was being conducted by Geetha Pracharini Sabha, Mysuru, every year. Prof. Aswathanarayana was the Chief Patron of the Sabha and was instrumental in conducting this competition systematically.



Prof. Aswathanarayana

Lord Krishna says in Bhagavad Gita, "Karmanye Vadhikarasthe Maphalechu Kadachana," which means 'Do your duty honestly, but never expect a return.' Perhaps accordingly, Prof. Aswathanarayana achieved a lot in life but never expected publicity.

Regarding Jawa/Yezdi Motor Bicycle MYM 8284 (mentioned by Dr. Javeed Nayeem in his article), I still remember, I had the privilege of being a pillion rider with Prof. Aswathanarayana on the above said bike on several occasions in the past.

With a heavy heart, I can only say "May his soul rest in peace."

Abracadabra...

By K.B. Ganapathy

Old Man and the World

As a very senior citizen of this country, I have seen stray cases of violence, for various reasons, among individuals and communities. This is not as disturbing, repulsive and mind-numbing as what I had read about the violence that was accompanied with brutal killings, rape, arson and looting of innocent men, women and children, mainly for the reason of religion. And yet "we" affirm our faith in religion as one that brings peace.

Right now a war is raging in Ukraine. Wonder what would be the fate of the near and dear ones; wives, children, parents, et al, of those soldiers and even civilians killed, in this mindless violence, war.

Think of those who abandon their homes and property, where their forefathers lived, and leave the country hoping to save their lives and to begin, hopefully, a new life. Like our own Kashmiri Pandits. Over 100 crore fellow Indians and their leaders could not protect them. Why? No religion, nor the Gods of the many religions we have, could protect them.

It is while ruminating about this kind of happenings in our world that I was made to wonder why only they suffered in this violence and not I or the remaining people? Probably, myself and others were lucky NOT to be in those zones of violence. Did I say luck? It is also called destiny. Or fate. Think of our students caught in the raging war in Ukraine! Lucky we have a Prime Minister who 'delivers' and they returned home safe except for one Naveen Shekharappa Gyanagoudar, the unlucky. Well, he might be asking the God the question: O, God Why Me? .

I guess, life treats every individual differently at different stages of his life — child, student, professional, old man and death — some have painful death of long suffering while some others have peaceful death, like Khushwant Singh who died at age 99 in his sleep.

This was the reason why the Old Testament had declared, "I came, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all."

Well, the sad part is this favourable "time and chance" does not in real life happen to "them all." Think of Ukraine people and Kashmiri Pandits of recent 32 years old. A few days back I read a WhatsApp message. Let me reproduce it as I read it:

CCTV footage of Vinayak Hospital, Mumbai

Dr. Sunitha, a Specialist Cardiologist, died due to a massive heart attack while on rounds, leaving no time even for her staff to do anything. Nothing in life is certain.

I don't think anyone can get more immediate medical attention than this doctor and being a Cardiologist, one would assume she was getting all medical tests done... Looking at these visuals, one realises that no matter what, when the time comes, no one can save you...So friends, let's live an honest, healthy and life full of gratitude with friends and family... When the time comes, we all have to go...

Let's train our minds to be happy, healthy and stress-free under all circumstances..."

The last para is well-written but is it possible to follow these precepts in our daily life of drudgery, the rat-race to earn a living despite odds?

And what would one do when circumstances change as in Ukraine or Kashmir? I am not sure.

Another WhatsApp I read is about the famous actor Will Smith and connected to the unpleasant incident that happened on the day of the Oscar Award presentation in LA, America. Will Smith repents and deeply regrets his violent act of slapping the anchor Chris on stage. He says:

Violence in all of its forms is poisonous and destructive. My behaviour at last night's Academy Awards was unacceptable and inexcusable. Jokes at my expense are a part of the job, but a joke about Jada's medical condition was too much for me to bear and I reacted emotionally.

I would like to publicly apologise to you, Chris. I was out of line and I was wrong. I am embarrassed and my actions were not indicative of the man I want to be. There is no place for violence in a world of love and kindness."

Look at the last sentence that says, "There is no place for violence in a world of love and kindness."

I think there is also another world in the world we live where there is NO "love and kindness."

Now the question is how to abjure hatred, violence? The question is how to teach love to the people who live in another world of violence? I thought religions would help. But looking at the world in all these over 80 years, I doubt.

But there is hope. Another WhatsApp rings in my phone: It says:

You are the only one in charge of your destiny. Unfair things may happen to you, unfortunate times may come to you, but you always get to choose how you respond. You can live in frustration and bitterness, or you can be the bigger person and just play the hell out of the cards you are dealt. The truth is that not a single person can choose the cards they receive, but everyone chooses how they play their cards.

Yes Sir, everyone chooses how they play the cards they receive. The mention of cards reminds me of what our Philosopher-President Dr. S. Radhakrishnan had written in one of his books:

Life is a game of Bridge. We did not invent the game nor design the cards; we did not frame the rules and we cannot control the dealing. The cards are dealt out to us whether they be good or bad. But, we can play the game well or play it badly. A skilful player may have a poor hand and yet win the game. A bad player may have a good hand and yet make a mess of it.

Our life is a mixture of necessity and freedom, chance and choice. We may not change events, but we can change our approach to event."

Now then, what beneficial role religion has in our life?

Om Sat Chit Ananda

Enough for this evening.

Land audit to evict MUDA property encroachers

MUDA sources told Star of Mysore that over 13,000 acres of land has been acquired by MUDA since 1968 and records of some of the properties are unavailable and even details of land acquired are missing. As a result, there have been many land encroachment cases and as the records are missing, it has facilitated land grabbers to create fake records and encroach the land.

In several cases, MUDA has granted alternative land as the allottees have demanded so. But despite allotting alternative land, there are some original lands that are still in the name of allottees who have already got alternative lands.

Also, in many cases, MUDA land that had been allotted to certain people has been sold off after procuring alternative lands. All the cases will be investigated and a special team will be constituted. The team will be headed by MUDA Secretary and two retired Tahsildars will be appointed and the Budget has earmarked Rs. 50 lakh for this purpose.

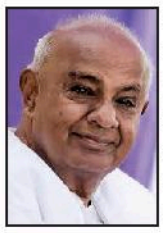
Take action against NICE for unilateral toll hike

Cancel Cabinet approval permitting toll collection: Former PM H.D. Deve Gowda



Deve Gowda

Bengaluru, Apr. 4 (Agencies)- Former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda has lashed out at the Basavaraj Bommai-led BJP Government for turning a blind eye to the toll increased by Nandi Infrastructure Corridor Enterprises Ltd. (NICE) on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Infrastructure Corridor Project (BMICP).

In a series of letters (dated Jan. 21, Feb. 6 and Apr. 2) to Bommai, and also addressing a press conference yesterday, Deve Gowda asked, "Why is the State Government not revoking the Cabinet approval granted to NICE to collect toll on a bituminous pavement, given that they have failed to fulfil contractual obligations."

He stated that the Supreme Court has categorically held that no residential developments are permissible on the lands acquired and handed over to the company or its assignee for the toll road.

"All the 6,999 acres of toll road lands would revert in toto to the State Government at the end of the concession period of 30 years. It is not clear why the State Government has not taken action in accordance with the law to cancel the sale deed executed in favour of the company in respect of toll road lands," he added.

"The company has violated all norms to increase toll unilaterally. Despite the House Committee report in 2016 against collection of toll by the company, toll collection continues. Between 2016 and 2022, the company has collected a toll of about Rs. 2 crore to Rs. 3 crore daily," he said.

"Has any official gone to the spot to inspect? Ministers also did not provide appropriate answers in the Legislative Council during a debate on the road issue recently. NICE has failed to fulfil its obligation to convert the toll road to rigid pavement in accordance with the technical requirements," he said.

Pointing out at the transfer of land from NICE to BMRCL for Namma Metro work, he urged the Government to cancel the sale deed for 41 acres in Komanaghatta village made in favour of NICE.

He demanded that the Government order an inquiry over officials responsible for payment of Rs. 14 crore compensation to the company for non-FWA (Frame Work Agreement) lands acquired for Namma Metro project.

The BMICP was cleared in 1995 when Deve Gowda was the Karnataka CM. The project led to a power struggle as allegations were thrown back and forth between the first family of the JD(S) and NICE promoter and former Congress MLA from Bidar Ashok Kheny.

The NICE corridor connects the southern part of Bengaluru to the northern parts on the outskirts. It was also meant to construct the road till Mysuru.

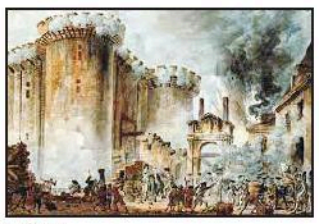
WORD OF THE DAY

Bastion



Pronunciation: BAS-chun.
Meaning: A bastion is "a place or system in which something continues to survive."
Origin: Bastion is related to bastille (a word now used as a general term for a prison, but probably best known as the name of the Parisian fortress-turned-prison stormed by an angry mob at the start of the French Revolution). It comes from the Italian verb bastire, which means "to build."
Example: "Connecticut has been a bastion of modern dance for a century, and such an entrenched classical ballet could come off as rather quaint. Not at the Palace, however, which is as grand and ornate as this ballet." — Christopher Arnott

THE ODD WORD

Bangtail

Mustang or wild horse.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The bigger they are the harder they fall

Meaning: You use the expression 'The Bigger They Are the Harder They Fall' to indicate that the more powerful or successful someone is, the more disastrous a loss is to accept.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'the bigger they are the harder they fall' is believed to have come from the sport of boxing. Not surprisingly, there were earlier expressions that meant the same thing and used similar wording. One of the first recorded incidences is in the poet Claudian's Rufian, essentially translating to "Men are raised on high in order that they may fall more heavily."
Example: "The Ravens are bitter about losing the championship game. The bigger they are, the harder they fall!"

QUOTE BOX

Life starts all over again when it gets crisp in the fall. — F. Scott Fitzgerald
